

EDICK APPOINTED SCHOOL PRINCIPAL

SIMON TELLS
WHAT HITLER
WILL DEMANDGERMANY ASKS FOR EQUALITY IN AIR
AND ON LAND

BY HAROLD P. BRAMAN
(Copyright 1935, By The Associated Press)
London, April 9.—Sir John Simon, British foreign secretary, gave the House of Commons the first official summary of Germany's security views today as the British government completed the outline of its Stresa proposals.

Hitler, Sir John told the commons, wants:

1. Land and air arms equality.
2. A navy 35 per cent as large as Great Britain's or about 400,000 tons.

3. A non-aggression pact among powers interested in European questions with provisions for consultations in case of aggression, but no "eastern Locarno" or mutual assistance pact with Russia.

4. No non-aggression pact including Lithuania until the status of the Memel territory, former German possession now held by the Baltic country, is satisfactorily regulated.

5. A pact providing for non-interference in Austria only if the powers are able to agree on one satisfactory to Germany, which solves the difficulty of defining just what constitutes interference.

Great Britain's proposals for an all-inclusive security arrangement, which Simon and Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald will present at Stresa Thursday, will involve Britain's full participation as an active member, diplomatic circles understood, if France and Italy accept the plan.

Wednesday's regular cabinet session will give the proposals final discussion with Lord President of the Council Stanley Baldwin, who did not have time to hear the entire program today, present.

The British delegates will not be able to carry out previously announced plans to confer with the French at Paris, since the French conferees already will be en route to Stresa when they reach Paris.

In summarizing the views of the Berlin, Moscow, Warsaw and Praha governments as presented to him and Lord Privy Seal Anthony Eden during their recent continental visits, Sir John devoted most of his attention to Berlin.

The foreign secretary made no effort to hide his feeling that Hitler's demands placed imposing difficulties in the way of bringing Germany around to the views embodied in the Anglo-French security proposals of February 3, the ostensible subject of his conference with Hitler.

"At the end of the Berlin interview," he told the lawmakers, "I expressed disappointment at the difficulties disclosed in the way of an agreement."

The foreign secretary's outline of the Russian, Polish and Czechoslovak views was brief.

At Moscow Eden learned that the Soviets consider the present situation has made it more than ever necessary to endeavor to promote the building of a security system for Europe as contemplated.

LUMBER CODE
WILL REMAINEnforcement Will Be on Voluntary Basis in The Future

BY JOSEPH L. MILLER
(Associated Press Staff Writer)
Washington, April 9. (AP)—Support from senate committee witnesses and an agreement for continuation of the lumber code to fight heartened the beleaguered friends of NRA continuance.

The government's decision to drop the Belcher case before the supreme court allowed an unfavorable decision against the lumber code in the lower courts to stand. Asserting they had been abandoned, many members of the code favored suspension but NRA officials today announced after conferences that the agreement was to be continued but that compliance would be voluntary.

In the meantime, a series of witnesses friendly to the blue eagle agency appeared before the senate finance committee which is investigating NRA.

Blue Eagle Stamps
One of them, Henry P. Kendall, cotton manufacturer and a representative of the commerce department's business planning and advisory council, told the committee business would be given a "very bad jolt" if NRA were discontinued.

Although lumber code compliance is to be voluntary, NRA officials said that only those firms living up to its terms would be given government contracts.

In addition, NRA and the industry are to make a joint effort to obtain compliance by use of blue eagle labels or stamps.

The NRA governing board is to submit amendments to the industry to permit the government, instead of the code authorities, to allocate production. These are to apply in any division of the industry which approves them. Production allocation by the code authorities was one of the provisions of the code which led the justice department to drop its prosecution of the Belcher case.

HOUSE AGREES TO LAY ASIDE
FIVE MILLIONSBUDGET INCREASED IN SURPRISE MOVE

BY GILBERT T. SHILSON
(Associated Press Staff Writer)
Lansing, Mich., April 9. (AP)—A compact house group put teeth in the old age pension system today.

Brushing aside protestations that the budget will crack under the strain, a majority bloc wrote an amendment into the continuing budget bill appropriating $5,000,000 a year from the general fund to assist the aged.

Proponents claimed an additional $2,000,000 may be received from the federal government annually. With a total of $7,000,000 a year they claimed every needy person above the age of seventy in Michigan can be assured of at least $25 a month.

The sudden move caught advocates of a pay-as-you-go program partially off their guard and when the budget measure came onto the floor a majority for the amendment was obtained. The vote was 55 to 25.

$12,000,000 for Relief

The budget emerged from the ways and means committee carrying an annual appropriation of $2,000,000 for old age pensions. This amount was taken from funds hitherto apportioned to direct welfare relief. It was planned to grant only $10,000,000 a year for welfare, as compared with the $12,000,000 now allowed. On motion of Rep. Hans O. Cline, Democrat, Ludington, and with the support of Rep. Philip J. Rahoi, Democrat, Iron Mountain, the pension fund was raised to $5,000,000. No provision for securing the additional money was made.

Rep. Harry Glass, Democrat, Grand Rapids, urging adoption of the amendment said:

"I don't know where the money will come from. The way to get it is to appropriate it, and then they will have to get it."

The budget bill came into the floor calling for a total of $40,314,242 for the next biennium. Members of the ways and means committee said it was their judgment, after careful study, that that was the amount that could be

21 LOSE LIVES
DUE TO STORM10 Section Hands Killed in Head-on Crash in California

Sacramento, Calif., April 9 (AP)—Flood danger in the rain-swept Sacramento valley passed tonight, but another victim of a train collision died, bringing the storm's death toll to 21.

Ten section hands were killed in a head-on crash last night between a Southern Pacific motor car and a train hauling gravel to repair a section of track washed out by heavy rains. The eleventh victim, Tony Espinosa, died today.

Placer county authorities at Roseville, near here, and Southern Pacific officials conducted separate inquiries into the accident.

A partial investigation, Coroner Elliott Brower said, the train crashed almost without warning into the speeding motor car carrying the track workers.

The storm resulted in nine deaths by drowning. One man was killed in a snow slide at Lake Tahoe.

E. H. Fletcher, government weather bureau meteorologist, said the Sacramento river waters were lower today, for the most part averting danger of floods.

A small levee on the Bear river broke, inundating 300 acres. Otherwise the only lands still under water were in bypasses normally flooded during heavy water periods.

In Merced county another Bear river overflowed, flooding a large part of the city of Merced, causing one death and damage estimated at $100,000.

Fletcher said both the Sacramento and American rivers were receding.

Porterville reported the storm brought 1.03 inches of rain, making the season's total 12.14 inches compared with 4.37 inches a year ago. Snow fell in the foothills 15 miles east of there Monday.

Roosevelt Pushes
For Broad Social Security Program

Washington, April 9 (AP)—President Roosevelt expressed anew tonight to congressional leaders his determination to see a broad social security program enacted promptly.

Mr. Roosevelt's expression came in connection with a late night conference with two house leaders, Speaker Byrns and Chairman Doughton (D-N. C.), of the house ways and means committee.

It served to spotlight his return to the capital to set in order a legislative program thrown awry by congressional disturbances during and preceding his southern vacation.

His conference with Byrns and Doughton which lasted more than two hours, left undecided the question of whether the security bill would be brought before the house under a "gag rule" forbidding amendments.

"Gag Rule" Considered

The question of the "gag rule" was not discussed with the president, Doughton and Byrns limiting their questions to those concerning the president's general attitude toward the bill as amended by committee consideration.

At the close of the conference, Doughton told newspapermen gathered under the White House portico that "I have no reason to feel that the president doesn't approve the bill."

Speaker Byrns said "he is very anxious to get that security bill through."

"He didn't say," Byrns continued, "that he was fully for the bill but expressed no opposition to it or any of its provisions as it was drawn by the ways and means committee."

There were indications that the house rules committee would be called into session tomorrow to consider the question of the "gag rule" forbidding amendments with the tentative schedule set for initial house consideration Thursday.

The president's meeting with the two house leaders followed by a few hours a talk with Senator Robinson, senate leader, on the general capitol hill situation.

As for the enactment of the $4,880,000,000 work relief bill, Mr. Roosevelt was told there had been little legislative progress. The insurgency and delay manifest all session remain and leaders indicate they believe a bit of presidential whip cracking might go further just now than gentle persuasion.

Added to accumulated problems was the administration of the work relief bill. Mr. Roosevelt let it be known that he would hold a

SAGINAW CITY
HALL IN RUINSSeveral Hundred Thousand Dollars Lost
Due to Fire

Saginaw, Mich., April 9 (AP)—Fire destroyed Saginaw's venerable city hall today, resulting in a loss of several hundred thousand dollars.

More than 100 employees who were at work in the building escaped unhurt, but several recounted close calls. David E. McLaughlin and his stenographer, Miss Margaret Uhl, were trapped in his office on the second floor. Firemen with ladders rescued them.

City officials said the greatest loss would be the destruction of records. The building itself, erected in 1891, was valued at $170,000 at the time it was constructed, and was insured for $90,000. Vaults in the various offices, in which records were placed in the belief that the fire would not be serious, were fire resisting but not fire-proof, officials said.

Records Very Valuable

Search of the ruins and examination of these safes and vaults will be necessary to determine the real loss. Only one tower of the building remained standing tonight.

Officials said records and documents pertaining to a new scientific system of assessment, on which $100,000 had been expended, were in the vault of the assessor's office. Other assessment, tax, health and police records were in other vaults, they said, and many of these could be replaced if they have been destroyed.

The police identification bureau, located in the basement, removed its records and City Clerk Shirley W. Corrigan rescued the permanent registration files of electors, accumulated recently at a cost of $50,000. Otherwise only a few pieces of furniture were saved.

The fire was discovered at 2:30 p. m. Firemen said it started, apparently, in an unused elevator shaft and spread rapidly to the third floor and attic. The cause was unknown.

Burns received the appointment as an aide-de-camp from Gov. Ruby Laffoon of Kentucky for "extreme and unusual courage, above and beyond the bounds of ordinary duty."

PLAN DETAILS
FOR SPENDING
RELIEF FUNDSMANY CONFERENCES TO BE HELD BY PRESIDENT

BY W. B. RAGSDALE
(Associated Press Staff Writer)
Washington, April 9 (AP)—A series of conferences to decide details of the biggest money spending job in peace time history was arranged today by President Roosevelt almost immediately after his return to the capital.

Four or five definite proposals for the administrative set-up to handle the $4,880,000,000 work relief spending were before Mr. Roosevelt. His aides said, however, that he probably would hold a dozen conferences before he approved a specific plan sometime within the next week or ten days.

The giant work program, designed to put trees where none grew before, set rivers to flowing in new channels and all but move mountains to give work to 3,600,000 men awaited only the final approval of Mr. Roosevelt of the method to be followed in carrying it out.

Soil Erosion Plans

Hosts of projects already are waiting in government departments.

High up on the list has been placed soil erosion prevention. Secretary Wallace told a committee of senators and representatives from five drought hit states today that he would endeavor to obtain $150,000,000 for such work. He will go with the group to confer with the president on the proposal.

In discussion of general plans for the work, Secretary Ickes said today there would be a greater degree of home rule in the selection of projects than there had been before.

He said he planned to set up legal, financial and engineering divisions in "miniature" in the states so they "can pass on the projects and send them in here."

Some of the states already have established planning boards for continuing public works projects so they may be carried out along long range lines with a dove tailing of state and federal activities.

In government departments, as the president returned to Washington to start the four billion dollar work program, engineers worked over plans for:

Reforestation, soil erosion prevention, flood control, rural reclamation and reclamation.

Dams which will help in flood control, water conservation and rural electrification.

Clearing rivers, channels and improving harbors.

Elimination of grade crossings. Housing to replace old tenements.

"THIRD ECONOMY"

Rochester, N. Y., April 9 (AP)—On the eve of its active start, Rexford G. Tugwell tonight retitled the administration's $4,000,000,000 work program "a third economy" needed "if we are to avoid another war or a destructive

NEW PRINCIPAL

Edward E. Edick, above, was appointed principal of the Escanaba senior high school, succeeding John A. Lemmer, by the Escanaba Board of Education last night.

Edick was recommended for the position of principal by Mr. Lemmer and the school board approved.

He was born at Lily, Wisconsin in 1898 and attended grade and high school at Omro, Wisconsin, being graduated from high school in 1917. He served in the United States Navy during the World War, his service being from April 1917 to August 1919. He attended Oshkosh State Teachers from 1919 to 1922, graduating in the latter year. In 1923 he attended University of Wisconsin summer session and in 1924 he received his Ph.D. degree from the University of Chicago, School of Education. He attended the University of Wisconsin Graduate school in summer terms 1930, 1931 and 1932, and will receive his Master's degree at that institution this summer.

He taught in Wausau, Wisconsin and Cuba City, Wisconsin before joining the faculty of Escanaba high school in 1925.

In addition to being head of the mathematics department at the high school here, Edick was assistant football coach and in 1934 was principal of the Adult Night School here.

After acting on the appointment of Edick, the board voted to permit Jordan college the use of the Escanaba athletic field for a game with Michigan Tech here on October 19, at the usual fee.

Arrangements were made for the audit of the books of the secretary and treasurer of the board and for the annual school election which will be on Monday, June 10. At the election, two members of the board will be selected to fill the places of Dr. G. C. Bartley and Alfred Peltier. Neither of these men have yet signified whether or not they will seek to retain their positions on the board.

President Roosevelt, back from vacation, arranged conferences aimed at shaping final details of the work program and the social security bill.

The house passed the anti-war profits bill with progressives forcing leaders to accept a measure which will enable heavy taxation of excess war profits.

Secretary Ickes promised greater state control of projects to be financed under the $4,000,000,000 work relief law.

Bruno Richard Hauptmann petitioned the board of tax appeals for a determination of his 1933 assessment.

Continuance of the lumber code on a voluntary basis was arranged by NRA officials.

Vice President Garner, hitting at views unsympathetic to the administration held by senate work-relief bill conferees promised to "exercise discretion" in naming future similar groups.

The federal alcohol control administration relaxed its efforts to limit liquor production to estimated needs.

MINERS BACK MICHIGAN COAL

March to Capital, Plead For Boost in State Consumption

Lansing, Mich., April 9 (AP)—A small army of miners from the Saginaw valley remained encamped at the capital tonight in a fight to force legislation to boost the consumption of Michigan-mined coal.

The miners, more than 600 strong, marched upon the state capitol Tuesday morning and placed their plea before Governor Fitzgerald and members of the legislature. Spokesmen said they would remain here until a bill restricting fuel purchases at state institutions to Michigan-mined coal is passed by the legislature.

Arriving in a caravan of more than 100 automobiles, the miners milled about the capitol throughout the day. Announcement of their intention to "stick it out until this legislation is passed" sent state officials into a huddle in an attempt to provide housing facilities.

Most of the miners were quartered tonight in the old warehouse after the Hotel Kerns disaster of last December 11.

Some Return Home
A number of the miners, however, refused to leave the capital and bedded down for the night in the galleries of the house and senate and other available places. Some who made the pilgrimage returned to their homes before the end of the day.

Rep. Chester B. Fitzgerald, Democrat, Detroit, chairman of the house state affairs committee where the coal bill is under consideration, planned a meeting of his group for tomorrow morning. He said the measure probably will be reported. The committee met today but did not consider releasing the bill.

Governor Fitzgerald, in an interview with leaders of the miners this morning, promised he would "take full responsibility for the bill when it comes to me." He refused to sponsor the bill until he has studied its practicability. At the administrative board offices it was said that new equipment would have to be added at the state institutions if their fuel were limited to Michigan coal.

Miner leaders claimed that passage of the bill would add $300,000 to "the mine homes of the state." They estimated the production of Michigan mines at 500,000 tons a year and said that state institutions could use an additional 200,000 tons.

The demonstration at the capitol was peaceful and without incident.

spent for the specified purposes if revenues are to meet appropriations. As the bill was adopted it appropriated $6,000,000 more—or $46,314,242—for purely continuing purposes aside from institutions and departments.

The measure goes to the senate where the finance committee may make some changes.

The house passed and sent to the senate a bill appropriating $25,000 to disseminate, through the schools information relative to the effects of alcohol on the human system.

Rep. Glass introduced a resolution calling for submission of a constitutional convention proposal to the voters in November, 1936.

The state affairs committee reported favorably a measure to legalize twenty-round boxing matches in Michigan. Floyd Fitzsimmons, Benton Harbor promoter and friend of Jack Dempsey's, said enactment would "bring some big time championship fights" into the state.

The conservation committee sent back to the floor the private shooting reserve squabble. A measure was recommended for passage which would limit hunting in reserves to the same season allowed non-club members.

A number of members would be permitted, however, to take one half the number of birds reared and released without regard to normal bag limits.

tie upheaval of social resentment at home."

As one of those destined to help spend the huge fund, the one-time Columbia professor defined the new work drive as "standing aside from and supplementing x x x coordinated economy for major commercial production and an unplanned, unregulated individualistic economy in every other field."

The undersecretary of agriculture, in a address prepared for delivery before the Rochester Teachers' association, further described his "third economy" as "represented by such enterprises as the work-relief program, the C. C. C., the gigantic problem of providing decent housing for the American people, the checking of soil erosion, the resettlement of the underprivileged, the provision of sanitary and recreational facilities and the development of power and recreation projects."

Executives on Auto Industry Silent on Situation

Detroit, April 9 (AP)—Executives of the booming automobile industry were silent today on the threat of the American Federation of Labor to throw its unknown strength within the motor plants to the support of Akron rubber workers.

Francis J. Dillon, A. F. of L. organizer, reiterated his assertion that the Federation workers in the motor factories would strike in sympathy if the rubber plant employees voted to walk out.

"Out fight is a common fight," he said. "After all, we're all actually workers in one big industry. We're doing our utmost to avoid strikes, but the industrialists will have to recognize that the trade union movement is here to stay."

Dillon contended that the A. F. of L. strength in the motor plants was much greater than was shown by results of collective bargaining elections conducted by the president's labor board. Fewer than 10 per cent of the workers indicated they were affiliated with the Federation.

Green Gets Support
"The strike in the Hupp plant would seem to show we had more than that there, wouldn't it?" Dillon asked.

Several hundred employees of the Hupp Motor Car Co., walked out Friday in a dispute with the management over the group bonus system, which the workers seek to have replaced with a piece work or straight day wage plan.

Dillon said that production was stopped by the walkout, an assertion denied by plant officials. The striking workers today rejected a proposal that they return to work while negotiations for a settlement of the dispute were in progress. Further conferences were arranged.

All but a few of the 176 automobile labor unions affiliated with the A. F. of L. have voted to give William Green, president of the Federation, authority to call a strike in the industry at any time he may see fit, Dillon declared. The strike vote was conducted secretly more than a month ago.

The Federation organizer refused to make any estimate of the number of men in the motor factories who would respond in case of a strike call.

Production in the plants continued today at near peak levels, with approximately 20,000 new cars and trucks rolling off the assembly lines.

SEARCH ENDED FOR GILLESPIE

last week embittered against Paul W. Tara, one of the administration lieutenants in Detroit, and George F. Carroll, manager of the Detroit branch of the state liquor control commission.

Fitzgerald said Gillespie told him:

"Tara and Carroll ought to be killed, and maybe I ought to do it."

The remark, according to the governor, was engendered by bitterness over an order barring Gillespie from the Detroit offices of the liquor commission. The governor directed Carroll to deny Gillespie admittance if the latter "attempted to pose as a spokesman for the governor."

The governor said Gillespie made no criticism of him in their personal interview last week. Nevertheless, two state police officers in civilian clothes, were stationed outside the door of the executive office today while the search for Gillespie continued.

"I believe the controversy is ended as far as Gillespie and I are concerned," the governor said "Gillespie seemed to be excited but possibly it was only temperaseries of conferences before deciding the make-up of the board which is to carry out—under the president's direction—the task of transferring some 3,500,000 men from the dole to work relief.

In the flurry of activity that followed his arrival from his Florida fishing jaunt, the president signed the army appropriation bill which authorized an increase of 46,000 men in army strength.

One of the first things the president did after setting foot in the White House was to go to the room where his secretary, Louie M. Hows, has been ill for weeks.

Howe, not so long ago, was reported dying and the president postponed the Florida trip until the secretary rallied.

Mr. Roosevelt found his friend much improved. They chatted for half an hour.

Willis Ward Gives Californians Thrill

Los Angeles, April 9 (AP)—Michigan's track and field team, the most important part of which is Willis Ward, hurled his threat at Coach Brutus Hamilton's California Bears today in its first serious workout here before their dual meet at Berkeley Saturday.

Ward, as his coach, Charles Hoyt, explained, took a light drill during which he jumped 6 feet 3½ inches; did the hundred yard dash in 9.7 seconds; skinned the 120-yard high hurdles in 14.6 seconds; and broad jumped 24 feet 1 inch.

The tall negro started out with the high jump. He cleared 6 feet 2 inches without removing his sweat clothes. When he did 6 feet 3½ inches and retired to his other chores without attempting anything better.

He defeated Sam Stoller, teammate, by a yard in the hundred. In the hurdles he was hand pressed by Bob Osgood, with one watch clocking him in 14.5 seconds. Coach Hoyt allowed him only one leap in the broad jump and the 24 feet one inch figure was the result.

The squad visited Hollywood's studios in the afternoon.

Germany Is Holding Polish Nobleman On Espionage Charge

Berlin, April 9 (AP)—An official at Woblaw penitentiary in Silesia confirmed tonight the presence there of Capt. George Sosnowski, Polish nobleman and spy, preliminary to his exchange for one or more German espionage agents held by Poland.

The Polish baron's activities in Germany cost two aristocratic German women their heads. Baroness Benita Von Berg and Frau Renate Von Natzer were executed at grim Ploetzensee prison February 18.

The prison official said: "Sosnowski arrived here more than a week ago in the custody of Berlin guards. The arrival and detention both were subject to mysterious secrecy. Sosnowski looks pale and none too well but I would hardly say he is ill. He is in complete isolation with special guards watching him."

"I cannot say when he will be shipped across the border. That may be soon, depending upon the outcome of dealings I understand are going on."

Woblaw is about six hours train ride from Berlin and only an hour from the Polish-German frontier.

Byrd Will Write Story Of His Trips

San Jose, Costa Rica, April 9 (AP)—Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd, who arrived today on his way back to the United States from the South Pole, disclosed that he intends to "hole up" in Boston for three years and write the story of his explorations in ten volumes.

His immediate plans include a week's stay with his wife in Costa Rica. He will go to a country farm near San Jose.

BAN FOR WAR PROFITS NOTED

House Supports Bill by Overwhelming Margin Tuesday

BY RICHARD L. TURNER
(Associated Press Staff Writer)

Washington, April 9 (AP)—A bill to forbid war-time profiteering, strengthened and invigorated through the persistent efforts of a bloc of youthful independents, received the overwhelming approval of the house today.

Successful in forcing leaders to include a potentially severe excess profits tax, the young progressives led before passage, rallied their forces again and struck out the measure's authorization for a conscripted army.

While the bill as it now stands would prohibit the president from ordering a draft, it could not prevent a wartime congress from enacting a conscription law.

Shortly after the house had acted, resolutions were introduced in the senate authorizing the president to restrict the issuance of passports to nationals seeking to enter war zones and clamping restrictions on loans by citizens of this country to belligerent nations.

The war-profits measure was sent by the house to the senate, where the members of the munitions committee, unmoved by war department objections prepared for an effort to write in its own virtually confiscatory war-taxes, limiting industrial profits to three per cent of investment.

While the house was acting, the committee today heard Col. C. T. Harris, chief of the department's war plan division, urge caution lest unduly high tax rates discourage production and thereby hamper victorious prosecution of a war.

Durant Plant In Lansing Purchased By Olds Company

Lansing, Mich., April 9 (AP)—Purchase of the old Durant Motor Car company plant here by the Olds Motor Works was announced today.

The announcement, which did not disclose the purchase price, said the building will be used for production activities of the local Fisher body plant. The building, idle since 1931, has 1,000,000 square feet of floor space.

The present Fisher body plant here will be taken over by the Olds Motor Works, makers of Oldsmobile cars, the announcement said. When the moving program is completed Olds production will be increased to 1,500 automobiles a day. Company officials said the expansion program would give work to 4,000 more men.

The Durant plant, with its 21 buildings and covering 47 acres of land, was constructed in 1922 with additional units six years later. Three years ago the cost of plant reproduction was placed at nearly $2,250,000.

Whitney Withdraws In Exchange Race

New York, April 9 (AP)—Richard Whitney tonight publicly withdrew from the race for presidency of the New York Stock Exchange and set to rest Wall street rumors that he might seek re-election as an independent candidate.

He issued a statement saying that Charles R. Gay, announced yesterday as the choice of the nominating committee, "has all my good wishes," and adding that "unity of action is essential."

Whitney's silence for more than 24 hours after the formal announcement that the nominating committee had failed to propose him for reelection had led to rumors in brokerage quarters that his supporters were trying to persuade him to run on an independent ticket in the election May 13.

3 Bank Officers Will Go On Trial

Detroit, April 9 (AP)—Three former officers of the Peoples Wayne County Bank will go on trial in federal court April 23 on charges similar to those of the first National Bank-Detroit were acquitted last week in the same court.

Judge Ernest A. O'Brien announced the date of the trial of Donald N. Sweeney, Edwin J. Eckert, and John R. Bodde, the former Peoples Wayne County Bank officers, today after a conference with attorneys. The three were among the 34 bankers indicted last summer. They are charged with making a false report to the comptroller of currency.

The government contends the bankers concealed a $145,000 investment in Detroit Bankers Co., stock by omitting the stock from the list of securities owned by the bank.

The Detroit Bankers Co., was one of two great Detroit bank holding concerns which collapsed in 1933.

loose leaf tobacco warehouse code authority, also urged extension of the law. He said it was "an un-mixed blessing" to his industry.

Dr. John A. Ryan, of the NRA industrial appeals board, testified that no charges of monopoly had been filed before that group, created as a result of the Darrow board's criticism of NRA. Small business men, he said, complained that they could not live up to the minimum wage provisions of the code, but not against monopoly.

Grand Jury May Investigate Iowa Frat Conditions

Iowa City, Iowa, April 9 (AP)—A warning that a grand jury will investigate conditions on the University of Iowa campus unless university officials enforce discipline more rigidly was sounded today by County Attorney E. A. Baldwin as a result of the indefinite suspension from school of 23 fraternity members.

The college men, affiliated with Phi Beta Delta, national Jewish fraternity, were suspended on charges that women visited their chapter house for immoral purposes.

Baldwin, in a statement, asserted the university had not cooperated in an investigation he has been making into vice conditions since taking office last January 1. He added that he believed other fraternities at the university might be guilty of practices similar to those charged to the Phi Beta Delta house.

The suspension of the 23 was announced last night by the university board of discipline, which said its action was based on an investigation that revealed women had visited the fraternity house four times between last December and February of this year. A charge that the fraternity had "contributed to the delinquency of a minor female" was contained in the suspension order.

First Steamer Goes Through Mackinac

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., April 9 (AP)—The steamer Joseph Block, of the Inland Steamship Co., was steaming through the Straits of Mackinac tonight, preparatory to battling the ice blocking its way into Lake Superior.

Observers predicted that a vessel could make the passage through the lower St. Mary's river, Lake Munuscong, West Nish channel and the Rock Cut to the Sault without serious difficulty.

Through the Straits of Mackinac, the Block was following the channel broken in the ice by the coast guard cutter Escanaba last week.

The steamer Nathan F. Leopold, of the Inland Steamship Co., is following the block.

Home Folks Pay Tribute To Ochs

Chattanooga, Tenn., April 9 (AP)—Home folk, silently passing the flower-banked bier of Adolph S. Ochs, publisher of the New York Times, today joined newspaper leaders of the world in paying tribute to him.

Mr. Ochs died late yesterday from a cerebral hemorrhage. He was 77 years old.

The body of the publisher lay in state at the Julius and Bertha Ochs Memorial Temple. A guard of honor from the Mizpah Jewish congregation stood watch.

Outside the temple, erected by Mr. Ochs to the memory of his parents, a special detail of traffic officers was required to handle the crowds.

Funeral services will be held at the temple tomorrow morning at 9:30, Central Standard Time. The body then will be placed aboard a train for New York for final rites and burial, planned Friday.

Governor Prepares Pardon For Latimer

Lansing, Mich., April 9 (AP)—Governor Frank D. Fitzgerald prepared today to set in motion the machinery that will make Robert Irving Latimer a free man after 45 years in prison.

The governor said that, within a day or two, he would ask Joseph C. Armstrong, commissioner of pardons and paroles, for a formal report on the case. He and Armstrong many times have discussed the case of Latimer, the 70-year-old inmate who has been denied through his long years in prison that he killed his mother, the crime of which he was convicted on circumstantial evidence.

Indications were that the pardon which the governor has said he would grant to Latimer would be forthcoming in about a month, possibly sooner.

A job in the outside world, the governor said, is a prerequisite to the promised pardon. Latimer said he had seven jobs offered him and intimated that he expected to work for the Ford Motor company after his release.

Prison authorities have agreed that Latimer would have been freed long ago but for the death of a guard after drinking a sleeping potion which Latimer concocted as part of an escape plot.

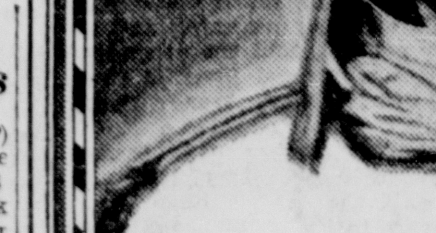

Latimer surrendered when he heard of the guard's death. His protestations that the sleeping draught was not strong enough to kill were borne out in part by physicians, who said an organic weakness contributed to the guard's death.

LIGHT AN Old Gold for young ideas

LIFE BEGINS AT 8:40 A.M., with your first after-breakfast Old Gold. It starts you on your day with a sense of well-being... and young ideas. Almost any Old Gold smoker will tell you what we mean. Old Gold's extremely mild tobacco is a "pick-me-up" without a "kick-back."

Stimulating... BUT NEVER IRRITATING

LARGE PORCHES REALLY USEFUL

Modernizing Will Make Them Into Cheerful Home Additions

In this day and age of automobiles and outdoor recreation of various sorts, the large open porch is virtually passe. What to do with it? Convert it into an additional room, sun parlor, or remove it altogether.

Such a project would be a timely contribution to Escanaba's Better Housing Program, now in progress. Years ago, before the advent of the automobile made it so easy and pleasant to spend a great deal of time on the highways or a points of interest, people were far more inclined to stay at home. A big shady porch on which one could sit on warm summer afternoons and evenings and take advantage of cooling breezes, was a valuable and appreciated feature of houses. Today, the size and type of porch to be built usually is determined by different considerations. It is more likely to be a small porch, serving as an architectural adornment to break an area of wall, and just large enough to shelter the entrance way.

Owners of old homes with large unused porches and with other features common to houses built years ago can easily have alterations made that will make their houses thoroughly modern and attractive in appearance. There is hardly any limit to the changes which may readily be made.

It may be that all an old house needs to be beautiful and modernize its appearance is a new attractive roof, which can be put right on over the old roof, a coat of paint and a few modifications of its lines and other architectural features.

Communication

THE PUBLIC'S NOSE

Turin, Mich., April 9, 1935

Editor
Escanaba Daily Press
Escanaba, Mich.

Dear Editor,

A close perusal of Sunday's Daily Press editorial entitled "Government Spending" (from New York Chamber of Commerce Bulletin) should do a world of good to anyone who has kept in mind news article of three or four years ago. At that time commodity prices were down to the point where a "pick and shovel" man wouldn't swoon if someone casually sneaked up behind him and shouted "butter" in his ear and, if remembered correctly, every other day another factory would reopen its doors. In short, "prosperity was just around the corner"—and leaving those hundreds of wise cracks aside—there is or, at least, was such a corner in the United States.

The above is based on the fact that the universal press should be a fairly good barometer of the nation's business.

But prosperity didn't arrive fast enough, so, with a smirk, we seized the shift of government and figuratively threw the gears into a new regime, a regime of government spending.

To the younger generation, which has been sitting back in a position of "watchful waiting," three or four years mean something.

Of course it's admitted that we've stood depressions since Washington threw a silver dollar across the Potomac (or was it a nickel) but this one is becoming old, gray and sickening. It seems time the public demand constructive action from its government instead of sitting back regarding passively the bickering of a group of whirligig, pocket-wise politicians.

A few years ago a young fellow could leave his "Pa's stoney farm" and, with "uncleplipped wings," make his own way in the world.

This argumentative chatter was written by a non-partisan who has experienced that which a young fellow receives today if he's "goofy" enough to try for anything besides three meals a day and an emphasized "be glad you have that!"

He left for a large industrial center and after signing up at a night school, tramped the streets for some sort of work, you know, just to help out. He finally "landed a job" at nine dollars per week, in a restaurant washing dishes for a little, egotistical Italian. Even this was fine till one day the little boss blurted out, "I can get a girl to wash a dish for six dollar per week—and a 'colored boy' who'll empty da garbage for one-a dollar per week. Here's a da wage to date."

This made a two dollar per week saving for him and a long ride for his former employee. It happened quite some time ago and according to all reports the present situation is similar or "even more so."

Have we prosperity? If federal relief and dole in the form of taxpayer's largest, instead of aggressive, individual industrialism is prosperity, then we have plenty.

It's meaning the time when our posterity should be given to hands which run the government for the people—not those which "run the people for the government."

Sincerely yours,
F. L. Connor.

GEORGE ARLISS AT DELT

Hailed as one of the great dramatic and historical screen presentations of the age, "The Iron Duke," Gaumont British production starring George Arliss as Wellington, and dealing with the Hundred Days cycle of Bonaparte, Napoleon's fall from power and his final defeat on the plains of Waterloo comes to the Delt Theatre today. It is worth noting as significant proof of the furor created in society circles by the advent of this stirring drama that when it was given its world premiere at the Tivoli Theatre, London, the performance was graced with the presence of His Royal Highness, the Prince of Wales; a distinguished honor seldom accorded a film production. Just as impressive, let it be noted here, was its later American premiere at Radio City Music Hall, New York City.

Mr. George Arliss is said to consider the role of Wellington one of his finest contributions to the screen.

EDITORIAL

AN UNWISE MOVE

UNBIASED citizens of Delta county, who are interested only in a good county government and who know little and care less about the internal politics of the city of Gladstone, in the absence of other evidence, cannot but conclude that selfish personal and political interests prevented the reelection of Claude E. Hawkins, as a member of the Delta county board of supervisors, in which body he has served for 19 years. The failure of the Gladstone city commission to return Mr. Hawkins to the county's governing body cannot but redound to the disadvantage of that city, for no matter what ability may be possessed by members of the new Gladstone delegation, no member of that delegation can take Mr. Hawkins place in experience in county affairs.

As chairman of the county board's highly important finance committee and as a former chairman of the board, Mr. Hawkins wielded an influence such as can only be established through a long term of years of service. His removal is certain to react to the disadvantage of the city of Gladstone, as well as to the entire county government.

HUGE PROGRAM

WITH the presidential signature affixed to the $4,880,000,000 work relief bill, an extensive public works program will be getting under way in the upper peninsula and the rest of the country in the near future.

For several weeks the U. S. Forest Service has been laying plans for a broader program of forest development. The number of CCC camps will be doubled, it is expected, and the forestry work will be conducted on a scale hitherto undreamed of. This will mean the employment of hundreds of additional men in the upper peninsula, but will be eventually far more important will be the rehabilitation of this region, which has in recent years felt the ill effects of wasteful lumbering. In the future, selective logging methods will be encouraged and put into practice, insuring permanent wood industries.

Another great benefit of the forestry program will be the development of the recreational side of the forests. Reforestation will provide better game cover and streams will be restocked with fish. There will be many coming for this purpose next summer as a result of the nation-wide publicity gained in the promotion of the Northern Michigan Smelt Run Jamboree.

Things are looking up in the upper peninsula. And with our citizens feeling more encouraged and hopeful, we will have the strength and will to launch new enterprises that will redound to the benefit of this north country and its people.

BETTER SIGNS

DERIVED almost wholly from stamp sales, and reflecting the extent to which the mails are used, the receipts of the Detroit postoffice rose above $723,000 during March this year, an increase of $55,000 (7 per cent) over the same month a year ago.

At the rate of $145,000,000 a year—slightly more than $12,000,000 a month—1,630,546 men and women employed by the railroads and the Federal Government began receiving pay restoration April 1.

These are facts entering into the general picture, the one showing a substantial improvement here in March and the other in a national way promising better still in April.

Doubts about the pace of recovery meeting expectations would vanish if Congress and the state legislatures would define feasible programs of action and proceed in a business-like fashion to carry them out.

AROUND THE U. P.

IRON COUNTY reports the most extensive mopping-up expedition since the sale of liquor was legalized. City and county police and state police arrested seven persons and one squad seized 450 gallons of moonshine, 1,400 gallons of mash and a 75-gallon still. Meantime, Federal Judge

Raymond convinced liquor law violators that he is no mood to tolerate their activities. An Iron-wood divorcee who had been particularly flagrant was sentenced to serve 18 months in prison, pay fines of $1,100 and $500 in additional penalties prescribed under the revenue law.

The Ironwood woman had the consummate gall to go right back to the business of dispensing moonshine after she was arrested by local police officers. Within a week after her first arrest, she was back in court. Authorities settled the issue by calling upon federal officers to take charge of the case, which they did with promptness. Joseph M. Donnelly of Ontonagon, U. S. district attorney, kept his pledge to support Upper Peninsula officers in dealing with flagrant violators.

Despite the ruling of the attorney general that a local governing body has no power to determine by city ordinance the opening and closing hours of beer dispensaries, the Sault Ste. Marie city commission plan to tell beer parlor operators: "Agree to close at midnight or you don't get a license." Incidentally, during a discussion of the liquor situation one commissioner said a cafe in the Soo was "running an open, unadulterated blind pig." Another commissioner quoted Commissioner Gormely of the liquor control commission and state inspectors that the Soo "is the cleanest town in the Upper Peninsula." And both may be right. The one "unadulterated blind pig" wouldn't keep the Soo, from being the cleanest town.

The Upper Peninsula of Michigan Association of Law Enforcement Officers meet in Ishpeming this week. It will be interesting to note whether members of the organization go on record in favor of a concerted drive against moonshiners and blind giggers. The showing made by officers in some communities during the last few weeks may inspire the organization to act as a body to put the run non violators. Upper Peninsula liquor vendors might try to get such action from the law enforcement officers. It will do no harm to try, at least.

Under a new ordinance, Escanaba calls upon all bus lines operating in the city to pay a city license fee of $12.50 for each bus and taxicab lines must pay $5 for each cab. In addition, the passenger carriers must take out public liability insurance in the amount of $10,000 to $20,000 and property damage coverage of $5,000. Failing to meet these requirements, the council reserves the right to revoke the license.

Dickinson county hopes to follow the lead of the Wolverine Conservatio nclub of Escanaba by organizing a conservation group with a membership of 2,000 or more sportsmen. To get a large membership, the dues will be placed so low as to invite general enrollment, reports the Iron Mountain News. The initial move of the new unit will be to convince the conservation department, if possible, that Dickinson county ought to have a fish hatchery.

It would be a fine plan if all conservation clubs in the Peninsula had the courage to urge passage of a special trout fishing license law. Dickinson county's opportunity for a fish hatchery would be enhanced if more funds were made available by trout fishermen. It costs the conservation department too much proportionately for propagating and planting trout as compared with propagating and planting lake fish. Probably the best bet would be a uniform rod license to cost a dollar, instead of the present 50-cent license.

If that Chicago woman who has been sleeping four years happens to wake up during a congressional campaign, it might be wise to keep her away from a radio, just to prevent a relapse.

Civilized nations brought about the last war, and now they predict the next war will end civilization. So what?

CHAPTER XXIII

Millicent said, "I don't think I have to explain anything that I have done, to you. If there are any explanations to be made, I'll make them to Mr. Happ personally."

"Or to the police," Vera Duchene said.

Millicent shrugged her shoulders. After all, she would have to face the facts sooner or later, and she determined to go directly to Mr. Happ and tell him the truth.

Vera Duchene holding up the dress triumphantly, said, "You know what will happen when the police find out about this?"

"I fall to see that it concerns you in the least," Millicent told her.

Vera Duchene crossed to a chair, still holding the muddled dress, sat down and surveyed Millicent with cool, impudent eyes.

"It happens," she said, that it is going to make quite a bit of difference to you."

"I'm sure I don't care to discuss it with you," Millicent said, "and if you wouldn't mind leaving the room, I have some work to do."

"When I leave," Vera Duchene said savagely, "I'll take this dress with me."

"Go ahead and take it if you want to," Millicent remarked with a great show of indifference.

Her manner puzzled the maid. She stared at Millicent for a few seconds, then said in a more conciliatory tone, "But I don't want to get you into trouble, dearie."

"Don't call me dearie!" Millicent told her, "and go ahead and make all the trouble you want. By the time you're through we'll find out just where we stand."

"Now wait a minute," Vera Duchene said. "Don't misunderstand me. We're all of us open to suspicion on some things, and we've all of us got to stand together."

"What do you mean by that?" Vera Duchene shrugged her shoulders. "You said something a little earlier," she said, "that I thought was impudence at the time, but now I realize that it was for my own good."

"What?" Millicent asked.

"About the police inquiry into my whereabouts last night."

"Well?" Millicent asked, trying to keep curiosity from showing in her voice.

"I'm afraid," Vera said, "if the police should check up on me, they'd find that I didn't get in until quite a bit later than I would like to have them think. Also they might find that I was with someone who might have some embarrassing explanations to make. You know how those things are, dearie . . . that is, Miss Graves."

Millicent, waiting, wondered what was coming next.

"So," Vera Duchene went on, "we thought . . . that is, I thought that you could say that I came home about 11 o'clock, and came into your room for a chat; that I'd heard that Mr. Happ had employed a new secretary and I came

GOOD-LOOKING GIRLS

Good-looking girls of homely dads—
Who can explain that mystery?
I well remember how the lads
Who called on mine would look at me,
As though in doubt, perhaps in fear,
At least in wonder if the maid
Would look like me some later year,
Her dad's resemblance but delayed.

Good-looking girls of homely sires,
And yet they have a charm within.
The thing that beauty most requires,
That grace we call the feminine.
Thought they resemble, they do more:
They take your rough and rugged line
And make it curve, and something more,
Yes, beauty give to even mine.

Good-looking girls of homely dads;
And, if they can improve the face,
If just to be a woman adds
To features so much more of grace,
How much of good to this old earth
A girl can do, if she impart
To all the world a greater worth,
New beauty of both mind and heart.

Before an audience that filled the council chamber at the city hall, attorneys representing the candidates and the city in the mayoralty recount, argued the points of law involved before the city canvassing board made up of Ald. Joseph F. Pryal, Ald. Charles G. Swan and Ald. Carl Johnson, Atty. Joseph F. Cuddy appeared for the mayor-elect B. J. MacKillican; Atty. T. E. Strom for the defeated mayoralty candidate Edward Smith and Atty. H. R. Dotch, for the city of Escanaba. So voluminous were the arguments that not a single ballot was counted during the afternoon.

Impressive funeral services were conducted yesterday afternoon over the body of Mrs. Harriet G. Andrews, at the home of her son James R. Andrews, Michigan avenue.

COOKS HUNTERS ARE ACQUITTED

Two Cases Completed on First Day of Delta Circuit Court

Ferris Gray and Arthur Demars of Cooks, charged with carrying a loaded rifle in a game area during a closed season, were found not guilty by a jury in Delta county circuit court at Escanaba Tuesday afternoon. The case was previously tried during the January term of court, but the jury was unable to agree on a verdict. The two boys were arrested on the highway between Cooks and Garden on Nov. 5, 1934, by Herman Leisner and Erwin Belfy, conservation officers, who testified that the pair had a loaded 30 calibre rifle in their possession.

Prosecutor William J. Miller presented the case for the people, and Attorney Denis McGinn represented the defense by order of the court. Members of the jury were: P. K. Bokers, David Deveau, Mabel Girard, Colin C. Greene, Ellen E. Hall, Nick Jordan, John H. Lunzman, Fred Marenger, Dina Perrow, Joseph P. Rademacher, Mabel C. Rinard, Alfred Wnuck.

Another case which ended with a jury disagreement at the last term of court was the second one up for hearing Tuesday. Harry Sullivan, the defendant, was charged with disorderly conduct, third offense. Attorney Alger W. Strom of Gladstone was appointed by the court to defend Sullivan. Those on the jury were: Carl Stenberg, Esther Gabe, Axel Sundling, Stanley Czajkowski, Stella St. Ours, Joseph Richards, Leland Greene, Ernest Stromquist, Joseph Brunelle, Emma Harris, Regina Sturgeon, Della Kauthen.

Judge Frank A. Bell announced yesterday that a jury would be ordered for the next term of court in July, usually a non-jury term. The trial of Henry G. Gauthier, charged with the embezzlement of Garden township funds, will come up in July. Attorney Glenn W. Jackson of Gladstone was appointed Tuesday by Judge Bell to act as defense attorney, and a continuance to July was granted to give him time to prepare his case.

War Veterans Deny Bonus Issue Dead

R. H. Doty, commander of the Escanaba Veterans of Foreign Wars post, has received a communication from national headquarters of the organization, calling attention to the fact that the VFW is still fighting for the cash payment of the soldier bonus, and has not given up, as stated in a recent news story. The memorandum says:

"An Associated Press dispatch from Albuquerque, New Mexico, dated April 3, erroneously and without foundation in fact, quoted Commander-in-Chief James E. Van Zandt with the alleged statement that the 'bonus issue is dead in congress for this session.'"

"On the following day, the Associated Press disseminated a correct version of Commander-in-Chief Van Zandt's utterances on the bonus issue at Albuquerque, definitely repudiating the contents of the previous dispatch with the chief's emphatic statement that the fight for immediate cash payment is still very much alive and that we are fully confident of victory in the United States senate."

"The commander-in-chief's appeal for continued cooperation and help from the organization at large, as contained in his letter to all posts dated March 25, 1935, still goes. This letter is indicative of the vigorous fight being planned by the V. F. W. in its determination to overcome the obstacles that still confront our demands for immediate cash payment of adjusted service certificates."

All Wolverine Ass'n Friends Are Urged To Dipnet Smelt Tonight

All members and friends of the Wolverine Conservation association are urged by Karl J. Hammar, president of the organization, to participate in the smelt dipnetting bee which will be held tonight in one of the final efforts to obtain fish to send to outside sportsmen's and service clubs for tourist publicity purposes.

During the last two nights, the smelt have been running heavily in the Escanaba. Days, Tacoosh and Squaw creek. It is expected that the run will be good tonight also, but according to expert fishermen the spawning period is near its end.

Shipping Eight Tons

The Wolverine Conservation association and cooperating organizations are sending almost 14,000 pounds of smelt to outside clubs. To date, about five tons have been caught and donated for this purpose, leaving about three more tons to be obtained. Unless the smelt is obtained, the Wolverine club will run heavily into debt, there also being some

GET CREDIT SLIPS

Fishermen who donate smelt to the Wolverine Conservation association at the Hansen & Jensen Fish Market are urged to wait for their credit slips and then take them to the "Share the Smelt" contest director at the Escanaba Daily Press office. It is necessary to get the credit slips so that a record may be kept of the donations to the Wolverine association.

expense incurred in sending prepaid shipments to certain individuals, where the possibilities for extensive publicity were good.

Celebrities Get Smelt

The Lency Claimant Trucking Service took a load of smelt for the Wolverine Conservation association Monday night to Chicago and Milwaukee consignees, including Mayor Edward Kelly of the Windy City, newspaper editors, Wayne King, famous orchestra leader; Preston Bradley, president of the Izaak Walton League of America; Eugene MacDonald, president of the Zenith Radio Corporation; Quin Ryan, radio announcer of Station WGN, and other celebrities.

The Hansen and Jensen Fish company yesterday received orders for all smelt that can possibly be furnished. The price being paid is still one cent a pound. To date, the fishing concern has shipped about one hundred tons of smelt.

More Cheering Letters

Here are some more excerpts from letters received from outside clubs that are receiving Escanaba smelt:

JAMES H. DADDOW, secretary of Morocco (Ind.) Lions club—Some of our Lions and other citizens go to Michigan and other places during the summer fishing.

If your club is sending out advertising other than the fish you will find the names of a few of our fishermen listed below, all from Morocco.

E. L. DRUCKAMILLER, member of Angola (Ind.) Lions club—The secretary of our club handed me your letter concerning the fish offer. We surely will take a box. I guess I am the craziest fisherman in the club; that's the reason the letter was given to me. Now a few lines concerning fishing there. Several of the club like brook trout fishing and bass fishing. Can you give us information. We go to Michigan every year to trout fish. Last year, we had very poor luck in the lower peninsula, and have decided to try the upper, so any information will be appreciated.

J. J. FLAHERTY, secretary of Muncie (Ind.) Knights of Columbus—Look for some of us fishermen next summer.

JAMES B. HALL, secretary of Massillon (O.) Kiwanis club—I might add if you have any literature or information pertaining to fishing and outing parties, I would appreciate having you send along a copy for each of our members.

CARL M. KRAMP, grand knight of Springfield (Ill.) Knights of Columbus—I hope that some day in the near future I shall be able to enjoy your wooded lake lands.

H. L. HANNAH, secretary of Bloomfield (Ind.) Rotary club—All the boys are looking forward to this nice shipment and all think it is a very fine way to get tourists to come to Escanaba.

JOSEPH H. ARNOLD, grand knight of the Macomb (Ill.) Knights of Columbus—My greatest sport is fishing and if at all possible we will be seeing you this summer and also will visit the Escanaba K. C. clubrooms.

JOSEPH H. TRINDL, secretary of South Central Kiwanis club, Chicago—Several of our members are well acquainted up in your section and you may rest assured that you will hear from us during vacation time.

JOHN J. HENNEBERRY, secretary of The North Town Kiwanis Club of Chicago—We do have a few real fishermen in our club and they made a note of your invitation to meet with you. We hope to have representation at your club one of these days.

L. H. WILSON, Aurora, Ill.—We have here, on the edge of town, constructed a nine sized artificial lake and have formed around this a hunting and fishing club. This club is composed of a select group of sportsmen, hunters, shooters and fishermen, our membership is restricted to fifty members and there is always a number waiting for admission. Fish fries, moose and deer dinners, etc., are a regular event in season. If you will send us a box of smelt, we will see that all the publicity possible is given you.

BROWNIE PRATHER, Ross-ville, Ill.—I and some of the other boys came into Michigan to Doc Sanders camp at Stephenson in the deer season but have never been able to get up there during the smelt run.

WARD D. MAYHALL, secretary of Greencastle (Ind.) Kiwanis club—We are only too glad to pass the word along to any of our members that the Kiwanis club of your city would make a wonderful host for a fine fishing trip. Hope that some of our members may have the privilege of fishing in the Upper Peninsula this summer.

GEORGE L. SCHARRING-HAUSEN, secretary of Park Ridge (Ill.) Kiwanis club—When our program chairman saw your letter he became interested in the proposition as he was a former member of your club. I refer to Rev. John Hubbard. If we are not too late to get in on your offer we will see to it that Reverend Hubbard make a suitable talk on Escanaba at that meeting.

ELMER D. JOHNS, secretary of Zionville (Ind.) Lions club—I'm sure we'll be impressed and our many nimrods will be inclined toward Escanaba this summer.

C. R. WAGNER, secretary of Warsaw (Ind.) Rotary club—The woods here are full of fishermen as we are in the heart of the northern Indiana lake region so the announcement to our club of your invitation to come up there to fish may bring you some guests this summer.

Celebration of Passover Will Open April 17

Passover, the feast of unleavened bread, is to be celebrated this year beginning on Wednesday evening, April 17 and continuing a week, the concluding service falling on Wednesday, April 24, 1935. Orthodox Jews observe the Passover for eight days.

The Passover, in Hebrew "Pesach," was observed originally by the early Hebrew tribes as an agricultural spring festival. Later it was transformed into a festival commemorating the redemption of the Jews from Egyptian slavery. By connecting the festival with the deliverance from the Egyptian yoke, a new meaning was given to it and new material for its observance. The festival and the ritual ceremony observed are not only identified with the Exodus of the children of Israel from Egyptian tyranny but are also symbolic of joy in the triumph of liberty and freedom over oppression and slavery.

The festival of Pesach is employed by the Synagogue as a means of consecrating the Jewish home to God, who is the Redeemer and Protector of Israel. The story of the deliverance of their forefathers from bondage reminds the Jews of God's providential guidance and gives them confidence in their final redemption from all oppression. The Passover feast endowed the Jew with endurance during the night of medieval bigotry. His trust in the "Keeper of Israel who slumbereth not nor sleepeth," sustained him during the severest hardships. Upheld by the confident hope that Israel's redemption opened the gateway of liberty to all oppressed, Passover came to be regarded as the festival of liberty for all mankind.

During the Passover week, "Matzah," unleavened bread, is eaten. It is a symbol reminding the present generation of the hasty Exodus of Israel from the land of oppression.

The feast is ushered in with a home ceremony, the "Seder," held on the eve of Passover. All members of the family participate in its observance. The ritual of the Seder includes the reading of "The Haggadah," a richly adorned tale of the deliverance, where in the various events leading up to the Exodus and immediately following are told.

The "Seder" celebration radiates a spirit of thankfulness and joy. It reflects the circumstances of the enslavement of Israel in Egypt and stresses the hopeful outlook for the final triumph of freedom for all mankind.

The STORY of EASTER

On the first day of the week of His passion—known as Palm Sunday—Jesus, with His disciples, left Bethany for Jerusalem. Nearing its gates, the Lord dispatched two of His disciples to bring Him an ass and her colt on which, to fulfill an ancient prophecy, the Messiah was to enter the Holy City. As the procession drew near its destination, the adoring multitude strewed the Lord's path with their garments and with palm branches, shouting: "Hosanna to the Son of David! Blessed be the King who cometh in the name of the Lord; Hosanna in the highest!" When a turn in the road revealed the city in all its splendor, the psalm of triumph grew louder; but Jesus, envisioning the awful fate of Jerusalem and its inhabitants, wept. Later, while Jesus was being led to the Temple, Pharisees witnessed with impotent rage the great homage paid Him. After a short visit to the Temple, the Lord and His apostles returned to Bethany to spend the night.

Luther League
Meets Thursday

The topic of the evening is "What the Holy Spirit Means to the Christian." Exceptionally fine music will be a part of the program which will begin at 8 o'clock sharp, immediately following the ten minute song service.

All members are urged to attend, and friends of members are invited.

Today's Recipe

Mrs. Jacob J. Arneith of 117 E. Case street, Negaunee, who is very well known in Escanaba, and who always takes a keen interest in the happenings to her former home city, has sent her recipe for Orange Cake in answer to the request which appeared in Sunday morning's issue.

Orange Cake
One-fourth cup lard and
One-fourth cup butter, creamed.
One cup sugar
Two eggs
Two cups flour
Pinch of salt
One teaspoon soda
One cup sour milk
Juice and rind of one-half lemon

One cup raisins, chopped
Juice and rind of one orange
One-half cup walnuts ground.
Method: Cream shortening, add sugar gradually. Add eggs unbeaten, salt. Dissolve soda in milk and stir into mixture. Add grated rind and juice of lemon and rind of orange. Add raisins and flour and bake in an eight inch pan.
Put orange juice in cup and fill up with sugar. Mix and put on top of cake when it comes from oven and sprinkle chopped nuts over it. Use ordinary flour, not cake flour.

Observe Science
Memorial Day on Friday, April 12

Lansing, April 9.—To the scientists of yesterday who fought tuberculosis with the crude tools that were the fore-runners of today's modern weapons, "Science Memorial Day," April 12th, will pay tribute, the Michigan Tuberculosis Association has announced.

A program included in a supplement to the Wolverine Health Bulletin, Michigan Tuberculosis Association school health magazine, has been offered to 10,000 Michigan school-rooms for the day's first annual observance. It will be a part of the nation-wide Eighth Annual Early Diagnosis Campaign which opened April 1st, financed by the 1934 sale of tuberculosis Christmas Seals.

Five famous scientists who have made tuberculosis-fighting history receive special recognition in the program. They are, Rene Laennec, inventor of the stethoscope; Louis Pasteur, who proved that germs cause disease; Robert Koch, who found the germ that causes tuberculosis; Edward Livingston Trudeau, who built the first tuberculosis sanatorium in the United States; and Wilhelm Conrad Roentgen, discoverer of the x-ray.

The national Eighth Annual Diagnosis Campaign, which does not close officially until May 1st, is carrying the story of tuberculosis prevention this year with the slogan "Fight Tuberculosis With Modern Weapons." Besides education about the disease, it is stressing the fact that "early discovery" of tuberculosis means "early recovery."

ENJOY MORE
SUNNY DAYS

Your moods, your actions, your very personality—all are influenced by the state of your health. Avoid common constipation due to insufficient "bulk" in meals. This ailment may cause headaches, loss of appetite and energy. It takes the color out of living.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN, a natural laxative food, furnishes you with this needed "bulk." Within the body, it absorbs moisture, and forms a soft mass. Gently, this clears out the intestinal wastes.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN remains effective with continued use. Two tablespoons daily are usually sufficient. Chronic cases, with each meal. If not relieved this way, see your doctor. Isn't this cereal food better than patent medicines?

ALL-BRAN also provides vitamin B and iron. Serve it as a cereal with milk or cream, or cook into muffins, breads, waffles, etc. It's much more satisfactory than part-bran products. Get the red-and-green package at your grocer's. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

TEACHERS VOTE TO JOIN A. F. T

Permanent Organization Will Be Perfected Here Later

At a meeting of the Gladstone Teachers club Monday evening a majority of the teachers favored organizing themselves into a local organization of the American Federation of Teachers, an affiliate of the American Federation of Labor.

Bertrand J. Henne, president of the Teachers club presided at the meeting. Meetings to perfect organization will be held later.

Included on the program sponsored by the American Federation of Labor are the following planks: no curtailment or elimination of any school activity necessary to maintain and improve educational standards; no reduction in teachers' salaries; no increase in size of classes; no shortening of school year; no lengthening of school year; free text books for all; tenure laws for teachers; equal educational opportunities for all children.

THEATRES

Shirley Temple—most sensational film discovery of the year—will be seen at the Rialto Theatre, beginning today, in her latest and, according to all advance reports, her best picture, "Bright Eyes."

"Bright Eyes" was conceived as a Shirley Temple vehicle by David Butler, who directed the film. The story was suggested to him, it is said, by a real-life incident occurring at a commercial airport near Los Angeles.

Once more James Dunn is cast as Shirley's leading man—a fact which is said to have enchanted the young star. Jimmy appeared as her daddy in "Stand Up and Cheer" and "Baby, Take a Bow," and Shirley has eyes for no one else, they say, when he is on the set.

Second Feature—"The Band Plays On," the second feature, is strictly a collegiate picture. It is the story of the college, its trials and tribulations, its romantic interludes, its lighter moods and its spirit of youth.

Miss Rose Stadel returned Sunday from Munising where she visited for a week at the home of her sister, Mrs. Clarence Kram. Mr. and Mrs. Kram and Mr. and Mrs. Axel Arvison, of Munising, accompanied her here and spent the day at the Stadel home.

Directed Verdict Given To Defendant

Manistique, April 9 (Special)—A directed verdict in favor of the defendant, yesterday afternoon, closed the case of Napoleon Cayer vs. E. T. Lundstrom in circuit court here. Judge Herbert W. Rannels directed the verdict on motion of Attorney Herbert of the defense counsel, following the presentation of the plaintiff's case. The case in which Attorney Arthur Anderson of Munising represented Cayer and Hixson and Herbert represented Lundstrom was the only jury trial on the calendar to come up at this time.

Jurors called were John I. Belaire, Lloyd Klagstad, John Lustila, Jr., Robert Crawford, Mae Kubond, John J. Munger, Edward Mulhaupt, Jesse Messer, L. W. Holbrook, Charles Hamiel, John Cameron and Wallace Ward.

Cayer originally demanded damages of $25,000, but at the time the case was called on Monday his counsel amended the demand to $1,000.

Fred Shaw and Hattie Webb who were bound over from justice court on March 13 on a charge of lewd and lascivious cohabitation entered pleas of guilty when arraigned at the opening session of court. Their pleas were accepted by the court and sentences will be made later.

The balance of time of the court has been taken up with chancery and non jury civil actions. Due to the number of continuances it is expected the April term of circuit court will be complete today or tomorrow morning.

Leopold Expected At Port Island

Manistique, April 9 (Special)—The Leopold of the Inland Steel company plant is expected at Port Island this afternoon to open the season. The Leopold will load for Indiana harbor. With the first boat of the season due here the Inland Line and Stone company is starting operations for the season and a crew of men has been ordered to report to work today. The Inland is one of the largest employers of labor in the county and the start of operations is expected to serve as a fill-up to business here.

COUNCIL HAS BUSY SESSION

Beer Applications Okeh-ed; Alley Proposition Bobs Up Again

The applications of nine local beverage merchants for the city council's approval of renewal of their permits for the new license year beginning on May 1 were granted on Monday evening in a busy session of the Manistique city council at which all members of the council were present.

George H. Cobb of Escanaba was selected by the council to make the annual audit of the city's books and an application of H. D. Ball to erect a sign in front of his place of business at 224 Oak street was referred to the city manager and the street commissioner. The council also accepted the report of the justice of the peace for the month of March.

A communication and resolution relative to the removal of the light, power and telephone poles from the street through the business section, the paving of Cedar street in the business section and installation of boulevard lights from intersection of Cedar street and Arbutus avenue to the intersection of Deer and Third streets, was read. R. H. Wilson, chairman of the planning commission, explained the necessity for removal of present phone and light poles in the program of widening and paving the Cedar street business section.

Following discussion of the resolution and a conference with L. C. Harbin of the telephone company, the council passed a resolution assuring the planning commission that its recommendations will be complied with in regard to providing the necessary right of way for phone and light lines to be removed from their present locations and will use condemnation proceedings to obtain such right of way where necessary. The provision of alleys was deemed, by the council, to be impractical at the present time.

Beverage applications to sell beer were given council approval to: the Eat Shop, 212 Cedar street; Dolor LaFolle Estate, 108 Cedar street; Fred and Emil Ekberg, 242 Cedar street; Houghton Tavern, 668 Deer street; Hub Tavern, 204 Cedar street; Park Hotel, Park avenue, and Henry Jahn and Son, 127 Walnut street.

Approval was given the applications of the Gardner Hotel, 325 Deer street, and Kerridge's Cafe, 319 Deer street, to sell beer, wine and spirits.

Firemen Burning Dangerous Grass Spots In The City

Fire Chief Underwood had a crew of men out on Tuesday morning burning off grass on vacant lots and other spots about the city where there is fire hazard because of the accumulation of dead grass. The burning of the grass is expected to reduce considerably the danger of grass fires at this time.

Each year, at about this time, grass fires are very prevalent in vacant lots and along the railroad right of way.

Drunk Driver Is Assessed Fifty Dollars And Costs

Martin Mathson, Naubinway, was assessed $50 fine and costs of $5 when he pleaded guilty to a charge of operating an automobile while under the influence of intoxicating liquor, before Judge Stephens in Justice court here on Friday. His operator's license was also revoked for one year.

Mathson was arrested on Thursday while driving on U. S. 2 by Troopers White and Barry of the State Police.

BY FRANK MAC MILLAN
(Associated Press Financial Writer)

New York, April 9 (AP)—The stock market jumped ahead like a startled pedestrian in the final ten minutes of trading today.

A sudden burst of enthusiasm for the metal shares appeared to have as much as any other one factor to do with the quick rush for equities, but most of the list evinced a readiness to respond to buying.

The creeping advance of the past week or so appeared to have finally stamped the bear forces into a covering movement, and the bulls were naturally not adverse to helping the buying along. A number of leaders got ahead 1 to 3 points or so, while U. S. Smelting, a metal stock recently freely offered, was 6 1/2 points higher at 104 1/2.

While turnover on the stock exchange was only $56,184 shares, nearly 300,000 changed hands in the final hour, and much of it in the last ten minutes or so. Thousand-share blocks in some of the trading favorites were common enough. The Associated Press average of 60 stocks advanced 7 1/2 of a point to 58 1/2, the highest level since February 24.

Silver Advances

Silver continued its relentless advance into new high territory for the past seven years as bars of the white metal were quoted another 3-8 of a cent higher at 63 cents an ounce.

The successive lifts in silver prices have recently been largely ignored by the market, but traders appeared finally today to wake up to the implications of the advance. Besides the 6 point rise in U. S. Smelting, other silver issues picked up 1 to 2 points. General Gas & Electric "A" at 3-8, off 1-8 from the previous sale. The stock subsequently "snapped back" to 1/2.

Among the more active stock leaders American Telephone at 107 1/2 advanced 2 5/8 points, and Union Pacific 2 9/16, up 3 1/2 points, gaining 1 to 2 points each. Included U. S. Steel at 31 1/4, Westinghouse at 38 1-8, Allied Chemical at 134, American Tobacco "B" at 78 1/2, Santa Fe at 40 1/4, Montgomery Ward at 25 1/4 and New York Central at 15 3-8.

Baer Offered $300,000 To Meet Max Schmeling

FIGHT WOULD BE IN EUROPE

Proposition Advanced by Walter Rothenburg Of Germany

BY BOB CAVAGNARO
(Associated Press Sports Writer)
New York, April 9 (AP)—A contract offering Max Baer $300,000 for a heavyweight title defense against Max Schmeling in Europe August 17 arrived in this country today with Charlie Harvey, veteran fight manager, who is representing Walter Rothenburg, German promoter.

The site of the prospective bouts has not been determined, said Harvey, but the White City stadium outside of London, Rome and Vienna are possibilities, with Rome apparently holding the inside track.

Two Propositions
Returning with his heavy-weight, Steve Hamas, who was announced by Schmeling in Hamburg several weeks ago Harvey visualized the German promoter as a "second Tex Rickard," with an equally expansive imagination and "the money to back it up."

The terms of the contract call for Baer's appearance in Europe on or before July 17—one month before the fight—and also stipulates the heavyweight king shall not engage in any fight between July 1 and August 17.

Two financial propositions were made. The first calls for Baer to receive $150,000 four weeks before the fight and the remaining $150,000 ten days before he climbs into the ring with Schmeling. The alternative proposition offers Baer $15,000 upon arrival in Europe and the balance after the fight.

Harvey picked Schmeling as a finely-conditioned fighter but called him "still a counter puncher." He would not venture any opinion as to the German's chances against Baer except to say "a puncher always has a chance."

Contrary to reports from Berlin today, Harvey, who was minus his famous handle-bar mustache, said Schmeling told him recently he would not fight in the United States again because 20 per cent of his purse would go to his American manager, Joe Jacobs, and a sizeable lump to the federal government for income tax.

Max Machon, Schmeling's trainer, told the Associated Press in Berlin "Max merely insists on a fight against Max Baer on neutral ground, but it is nonsense to say he has declined to go to America at all."

Each team made seven hits with the Indians getting their run off Carl Hubbell, who pitched nine innings, in the fourth on successive doubles by Galtzer and Trotsky. The Giants went scoreless until the eighth. Gus Mancuso got a ground rule double on a drive that bounded into the right field stands and Dick Bartell followed with a single off Mel Harder. Thornton Lee replaced Harder in the ninth and Al Smith took Hubbell's place at the start of the tenth.

COACHES WILL VISIT BLANEY

School June 24 to 30th
One of Finest in Country

Athletic coaches of the middle west were sent literature yesterday regarding the Blaney Park coaching school which will be conducted at Blaney June 24 to June 30, inclusive.

The coaching staff will include Conrad M. Jennings, director of athletics and track coach at Marquette university for the past 13 years; Bernie Bierman, football coach of the University of Minnesota; Herbert O. Crisler, football coach at Princeton; William Chandler, basketball coach at Chantrelle University; and William Fallon, well known trainer of the University of Wisconsin. The coaching school planned at Blaney is regarded as one of the finest to be offered anywhere this season, featuring as it does five really "big names," men who have made an enviable reputation in their particular branch of sports. It is the first coaching school of this rank ever offered in the upper peninsula. It is believed that numerous high school and college coaches from all over the middle western states will attend the week's course.

Al Simmons Leads White Sox At Bat

Oklahoma City, Okla., April 9 (AP)—The Chicago White Sox took another fall out of the Pittsburgh Pirates here this afternoon humbling the National League's 12 to 9 in a free batting frazzle that saw 32 hits rapped out. Al Simmons, who starts hitting harder as the season opens nears connected for five wallops today as his mates bombarded Birkofer and Osborne for 19 hits.

Dean Called Before Commissioner Today

St. Louis, April 9 (AP)—Dizzy Dean, St. Louis Cardinals' star pitcher, was notified late today to appear tomorrow before Judge Kennesaw M. Landis, commissioner of baseball.

Sam Breadon, president of the Cardinals, said tonight Dean had received word to go to the commissioner's office in Chicago. Breadon declined to comment further except to say he "thought" Judge Landis wished to question the pitcher about the reported bonus in connection with the signing of his contract.

Dean could not be reached. His wife, at their hotel, said she "didn't know when Dizzy planned to leave" for Chicago.

It was thought here the notification might be in connection with a story in an east St. Louis paper yesterday reporting Dean had received $5,000 from an East St. Louis business man for signing his Cardinals contract.

Whether Dizzy violated any baseball law if he did receive the reported sum was not known here but it was believed the commissioner wished to find out about it.

MAROONS TAKE HOCKEY TROPHY

Montreal Licks Toronto For Third Time; Final Score Is 4-1

Montreal, April 9 (AP)—The Montreal Maroons won the Stanley Cup, emblem of the world's professional hockey championship, by defeating the Toronto Maple Leafs, National Hockey League champions, 4 to 1 tonight for their third straight victory in the final playoff series.

The Maroons, who came up from the ranks to win the coveted trophy relinquished by the Chicago Blackhawks, scored the most decisive final victory since 1932 when Toronto walloped the New York Rangers. They won the opening game in Toronto 3-2 in overtime and the second game there 3-1 before returning for tonight's encounter.

Toronto played driving wide open hockey from the start. Most of the Montreal goals came on quick sallies while the Leafs were trying desperately to score. Lawrence (Baldy) Northcott, the Maroon left wing speedster scored one goal, drew assists on two others and did his usual thorough job of checking Chuck Conacher, Toronto's scoring ace. Marvin (Cy) Wentworth, defense stalwart, had a goal and an assist.

Two Fast Goals
The Maroons were short handed through a penalty to Lionel Conacher when Northcott and Dimmy Ward manufactured the opening tally. Ward stole the puck and raced down for a hard shot Northcott swung at the rebound then Ward tried again and George Hainsworth, who had made two fine saves, couldn't come through again.

Toronto's gang plays knotted the count in the middle of the second frame when Frankie Finnigan slipped a pass to young Billy Thoms and the latter scored on a drive from the edge of the crease.

Montreal came back with two goals in a space of 12 seconds a few minutes later and put the game on ice. Northcott, checked by Bill Hollett, got off a pass to Ward, then eluded the young Toronto defenseman long enough to deflect the right winger's shot into the cage. On the next thrust Northcott fed Wentworth a pass for another shot that Hainsworth couldn't handle.

In the second minute of the closing period Wentworth supplied the finishing blow. Trapping the Leafs with five men down the ice on a furious attack, he barged in toward the Toronto net, then slipped a short pass to Gus Marker for the final tally.

The lineups:
Toronto Pos. Maroon:
Hainsworth G. G. Connell
Hollett RD. Wentworth
Day LD. Evans
Thoms C. Blincoe
Boll LW. Robinson
Finnigan RW. Trotter
Toronto spares: Clancy, Horner, Primeau, Jackson, C. Conacher, Cotton, Kelly, Metz, Doraty.

Referees: Stewart and Bell.
First period: 1. Maroons, Ward (Northcott) 19:35. Penalties: Horner, L. Conacher.

Second period: 2. Toronto Thoms (Finnigan) 12:59; 3. Maroons, Northcott (Ward) 16:18; 4. Maroons, Wentworth (Northcott) 16:30. Penalties: none.

Third period: 5. Maroons, Marker (Wentworth) 1:02. Penalties: none.

Jones, Yates Lose Exhibition Match

Atlanta, April 9 (AP)—Olin Dutra, national open champion from California, and Jimmy Thomson, long-hitting young pro from Long Beach, Cal., teamed today to beat Bobby Jones and Charlie Yates national intercollegiate champion 1 and 2 in an exhibition match.

Despite a bitter wind, some 700 of Jones' townsmen turned out and were treated to some brilliant golf over the No. 1 layout at East Lake Country club, Jones' home course.

The stocky Thomson, smashing terrific drives in spite of the wind handicap and pitching with great accuracy, carded a 67, three under par. Yates stood next in the scoring with a 69 while Dutra and Jones each equalled par with a 70.

Gangway, Sir Malcolm

All set to give any hare a run for its money, Barney Oldfield, champion of the roaring road of days gone by, and his ever-present cigar, are shown astride Gertie, Galapagos Island tortoise, at the San Diego, Calif., zoo. Barney has his eye on that 300-mile-an-hour goal of Sir Malcolm Campbell, and figures that Gertie is the gal that can do it.

Alger County To Have Track Meet

Trenary, Mich., April 9—Preliminary plans were drawn up Saturday for the tenth annual Alger county track meet, at a meeting held Saturday in Chatham, at which representatives of the various schools were present.

This meet is the big track event of Alger county with both boys and girls competing in the two classes. Class A consists of high school students, both boys and girls; Class B includes all of the junior high students in the sixth, seventh and eighth grade being eligible in this class.

Munising, Eben, Trenary and Grand Marais are the leading contenders in Class A while in Class B they also have representatives along with Forest Lake, Kiva, Traunick, Deerton and Limestone, the latter towns not having high schools.

The events will be the same as last year with the exception of the low hurdles. The 200 yard hurdles have been substituted in place of the javelin, which is no longer recommended by the Michigan High School Athletic association.

The exact date of the meet has not been set as yet, being dependent upon the date of the regional meet at Houghton. It is likely that the date will be either May 11 or May 18.

Ping Pong Champs Meet Iron Mountain

Winners in the junior division of the recent Escanaba Lions club ping pong tournament will be hosts to the Iron Mountain champions at a match to be played Thursday evening in the Sherman hotel banquet rooms.

The matches will start at 7 p. m. and spectators are invited. The Escanaba boys lost a narrow decision to Iron Mountain last week and intend to even up the count Thursday night.

Chicubs Defeat Chattanooga, 7-3

Chattanooga, Tenn., April 9 (AP)—Tex Carleton delivered an eight-hit pitching performance today as the Chicago Cubs defeated the Chattanooga Lookouts, 7 to 3. It was the ninth straight exhibition victory for the Cubs and their twelfth in the last 15 games.

The Cubs landed on two Lookout pitchers for 10 hits, one of which was a home run by Phil Cavarretta.

REDS TROUNCE DETROIT, 11-3

Six Circuit Blows Are Feature in Game at Florence, S. C.

Florence, S. C., April 9 (AP)—Turning on the steam after two game-less days, the Cincinnati Reds trounced the Detroit Tigers in a battle of home runs in this city's postage-stamp ball park today, 11 to 3. The victory evened the barnstorming series of the two clubs, 3-all.

Six circuit clouts broke the bounds of the diminutive Ricks field during the game, but they were the only extra-base hits of the contest. Hefey drove one over the fence for the Reds with the bases loaded in the third, and Ricks followed suit with two on in the sixth. Erickson and Byrd added to the Reds' total of homers. Cochrane and Rogell counted round-trip wallops for Detroit.

But the Cincinnatians could garner only two hits in addition to the homers off three Bengal hurlers. Clyde Hatter and General Alvin Crowder held the Reds to five hits between them, but they walked eight men in the eight innings they pitched. Chief Hogsett finished out the final frame, allowing a single hit.

Misses No Hit Game Against Wolverines

Durham, N. C., April 9 (AP)—Peter Naktanis, the Pennsylvania southpaw of the freak delivery almost carved himself a niche in collegiate baseball's hall of fame this afternoon. He missed a no hit, no run game against the University of Michigan by the scant margin of one fluke hit, and Duke's Blue Devils won, 4 to 0.

Michigan's lone hit came in the third inning when Lerner, on a delayed hit and run play, dumped a pop fly into the shortstop position vacated by Corbett when the latter went over to second to take the throw on what he thought was to be a stolen base.

The score by innings:
Michigan 000 000 000—0 1 4
Duke 100 011 10X—4 6 0
Larson and Williams; Naktanis and Wagner, Kenopka.

MERMAIDS ARE BUSY TONIGHT

Attacks on Records to Be Made in Chicago Swimming Pool

BY PAUL MICKELSON
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Chicago, April 9 (AP)—Some of the outstanding rivalries in sport will be resumed in the Lake Shore Athletic club pool starting tomorrow night when 75 of the nation's outstanding mermaids cut through the waves in competition for National A. A. U. championships.

Every important titleholder is entered in the three-day meet which will be enlivened by record-breaking attacks by Jack Medina, Seattle's human torpedo, and Adolph Kiefer, 16-year-old Chicago high school boy. Medina, distance free style champion, will make an effort to smash the records in the 300-yard and 300-meter events, while Kiefer will try to better American and world marks in the 400-meter and 500-yard backstroke events.

The first championship event of the meet is expected to be a great battle between Olive McKean, Seattle star, and Lenore Knight of Homestead, Pa.

Records (and swimming championships usually produce them in large quantities) were expected of the "big four" of the meet—Katherine Rawlis of Miami, low board diving and individual medley champion; Eleanor Holm Jarrett of New York, backstroke champion; Miss Knight and Miss McKean.

A new threat to world's records may be unveiled in the person of Dorothy Sundry, a newcomer to big time women's competition who is six feet, one inch tall, and weighs 175 pounds. Miss Sundry, representing the Lakeside S. C. of Oakland, Calif., is rated by some experts as one of the greatest swimming prospects in many years, having everything a champion needs—power, shoulders, reach and form. Her first start will be in the 100-yard free style.

Qualifying heats will be held in the afternoon with the finals at night. In addition to record-making attempts by Medina and Kiefer tomorrow night, championships will be decided in the 100-yard free style, girls' 100-yard breaststroke, and the 300 individual medley.

WEST ENDERS WIN

The West End diamond ball team defeated the Athletics, 13-0, in a game played yesterday on the junior high school diamond. Batteries for the losers were Benard and Loeffler, while Sullivan and Jensen did the honors for the West Enders. Donovan was umpire.

Highland Club Has Busy Year Ahead; Committees Picked

At a meeting of the board of directors of the Highland Club last night committees were appointed and activities outlined for the coming season. Work on the new club house is to start immediately. Two committees are at work and the membership is to be solicited for funds to help defray expense of club house.

Number four fairway is to be finished so as to play it as a 300 yard par 4 instead of 135 yard par 3 as formerly. This will increase the par total to 34. The course is in excellent shape for this time of the year and a great deal of interest is manifested in activities for the coming summer.

Committee announced by the president, Dr. Howard Johnson, are as follows:

Grounds: Albin Carlson, chairman; Dr. G. A. Cotton, John Neuman, G. B. Anderson, Ted Baldwin and Wm. Wheaton.

Tournament: Art Goula, chairman, H. A. McPherson, Stanley Osman, Ernest Flath and Ernest Deslites.

Grove Pitches Four Scoreless Innings

Charlotte, N. C., April 9 (AP)—Bob "Lefty" Grove pitched four scoreless innings today while doing his chore against the Charlotte Piedmont League club, one of the Boston Red Sox farms. The American Leaguers won, 8 to 2.

Grove held the opposition to three hits, issued one pass and had two strikeouts.

Carl Reynolds collected a homer and a pair of doubles and Babe Dahlgren, who shared the first base assignment with "Bing" Miller, also connected for a four-baser.

The score:
Boston (A.), 100 010 123—8 11 2
Charlotte (P.) 000 010 100—2 7 4
Grove, Ostermuller and Smith; Zimmer, Gasset, Humphries, Jackson and Moore.

BAER FIGHT IS GIVEN SANCTION

Wes Ramey Will Oppose Roger Bernard of Flint

Grand Rapids, April 9 (AP)—Promoter William T. Morrissey claimed victory tonight in his controversy with State Boxing Commissioner E. W. Dickerson, who attempted to prevent Morrissey from staging a fight show here tomorrow night featuring Max Baer, heavyweight champion, and Wesley Ramey, Grand Rapids lightweight title contender.

After a series of conferences with James Duffey, chairman of the boxing commission, and Fred V. Hayford of Lansing, secretary of the commission, Morrissey announced:

"I have the permission of the chairman to go ahead and put on the show, with Baer meeting Ed Willis, the Chicago negro, in a four-round exhibition bout and Ramey meeting Roger Bernard of Flint, featherweight boxer who has agreed to enter the ring within four pounds of Ramey's weight."

Duffey and Hayford, announcing that they wanted to "talk to Mr. Dickerson" before saying anything for publication, disappeared. They said they would go to Dickerson's home for a conference. Simultaneously Dickerson had not been present at the conference of Morrissey, Duffey and Hayford.

Morrissey said Duffey and Hayford had suggested that he compromise with Dickerson. The compromise, he said, would have meant substitution of another fighter for Bernard, who Dickerson contended was "not in Ramey's class." The three canvassed the list of prospects, found none satisfactory and settled on Bernard again, Morrissey added.

The conference climaxed a feud which has raged for days between Morrissey and Dickerson. The promoter announced he would put on his show whether Dickerson liked it or not. The commissioner countered that he would have state police close it up if Morrissey defied him.

The promoter claimed the backing of George Clark, secretary to Gov. Frank D. Fitzgerald. He quoted Clark as expressing a desire that "Dickerson keep his hands off at Grand Rapids."

Ramey had something to say today about the dispute. "If Mr. Dickerson things Roger Bernard is any man's set-up," said the fighter, "I'd like to see him get into the ring with him for ten rounds."

Bernard didn't care to say anything to reporters.

Dip-Netters Lose Donation Of Smelt

Lost—Sack of smelt. Finder notify Mr. Stewart at city hall. The Wolverine Conservation association was really the loser in this case. Mr. Stewart and his party had by diligent effort dip-netted a sack of about 60 pounds of smelt which they intended to donate to the club. In some way the smelt inadvertently slipped from the car and when the boys stopped to deliver the fish at the fish-house said fish could not be found.

BRIEFLY TOLD

Speeder Pays—A motorist in a hurry got his name on the Escanaba police department records Tuesday and paid for the honor. He was going 50 miles an hour on Second avenue north at 2:15 a. m.

Grass Fire Stopped—Fire company No. 2 was called out Tuesday by a grass fire in the rear of the state fairgrounds. It was kept under control and no damage was done.

Scouts Have Hike: At a meeting held Monday night, Scouts of troop 48 of St. Joseph high school made plans for a hike to be staged Saturday morning. The boys also discussed first aid methods and made plans to plant 150 lilac hedges and 150 willow trees, to form a hedge at the Willows, Lake Shore Drive. The planting will be done on April 20. Otto K. Sheriff is scout master of the St. Joseph troop.

All Must Report
Mr. Leiphart stated that all those who are registered at the federal reemployment office must contact the office at least once each month to let him know they are still out of employment or their records will be cancelled. This ruling is necessary, he said, so that the records can be kept up to date. All persons living in Munising are urged to call at his office in the basement of the Alger county court house once each month, or send a letter or postcard.

Railroads Petition For Rate Increase

Lansing, Mich., April 8 (AP)—The Michigan public utilities commission fixed a hearing today for next Monday on the petition of Michigan railroads for an increase in intrastate freight rates.

An increase is sought, the petition said, so that rates levied within the state may conform with emergency tariffs approved by the interstate commerce commission for interstate traffic. The emergency rates, which are due to expire in June, 1936, represent an increase of 7 to 10 percent over the intrastate rates.

Petitioning railroads are the Michigan Central, New York Central, Pere Marquette, Grand Trunk and Pennsylvania systems.

793 WITHOUT JOBS IN ALGER

All Those Registered Must Report Once Each Month

Munising, April 9—Alger county is facing the summer with a total of 793 unemployed, according to G. Austin Leiphart, Jr., manager of the Munising branch of the National Reemployment Service. These figures Mr. Leiphart stated include active applications for the whole of Alger county and it is the highest total of unemployment we have had this winter.

During the months of January, February and March a total of 218 men have been given employment. Of this number 163 men have been placed in private industries, such as lumbering, logging, etc., and 50 men were placed in the service of the Hiawatha National Forest. Of this total of unemployed 40 of them are World war veterans.

Little Is Chairman Of County Board

Munising, April 9—At the regular meeting of the Alger county board of supervisors C. R. Little, of Trenary, was elected chairman of the board for the year of 1935. He succeeds Evered Lezotte.

An appropriation of $150 was made by the board for an assistant to the Couzens Fund dentist who will be engaged in Alger county this summer. It was suggested by the finance committee last year that the board meet six times and that the county officers be allowed 4 cents per mile for traveling. This suggestion was changed allowing 5 cents per mile and that the meetings be subject to call by the chairman, not to exceed 12.

CAR DRIVER IS INDICTED

Einar Louma, of Chatham, Held for Negligent Homicide

Munising, April 9—A coroner's jury today found that Arvid Makl, who was killed at 2 o'clock Sunday morning near Chatham, came to his death by being struck by a car driven by Einar Louma, of Chatham, who was indicted on a charge of negligent homicide.

Louma will be arraigned tomorrow before Justice of Peace T. J. Walter. The owner of the car, John Letanen, and John Rajala, a passenger, were cleared of any blame in connection with the death.

The accident occurred about a mile from Eben when Makl was returning from a dance. Both Makl's arms and legs were broken and his skull was fractured, an examination revealed.

Members of the coroner's jury who brought in the verdict of negligent homicide were: John Gattis, R. E. O'Brien, Gabe Heldman, Muriel Miller, Joseph Artibe and Howard Gattis.

Magician Appears Here On Friday

Munising, April 9—Armond, the Magician, who will appear in the high school auditorium at 3:15 Friday afternoon, has been a student of magic for more than a decade, and entertainment committees everywhere are loud in their praise of this young conjurer. Armond's magic is an art, not just the performance of tricks. The atmosphere with which he clothes his experiments makes the problems convincing and enjoyable.

Coins, cards, balls, silks and other objects of different sizes and shapes disappear and reappear at the command of this master wonder worker.

The most ancient and mysterious problems known to the profession is the experiment with the steel rings, Ching Ling Foo's masterpiece. After the rings have been examined by several members of the audience Mr. Armond will proceed to link and unlink them at will, very much to the bewilderment of the spectators.

Other features of the program are: Here, There, Where? Solid Through Solid, Obedient Cards, Hindu Turban Mystery, The Miser's Dream.

Action Deferred On Parole Applications

Lansing, Mich., April 8 (AP)—Governor Frank D. Fitzgerald deferred action today on recommendations by Parole Commissioner Joseph C. Armstrong, that the terms of three life term murderers be reduced.

They were: Anthony T. Marsella, sentenced from Wayne county in 1917; Charles G. Platzer, sentenced from Kent county in 1914 for the murder of Della Stratton, and Ralph Thompson sentenced in Ontonagon in 1915 for the murder of Henry

Harry S. Toy Gives Chain Store Ruling

Lansing, Mich., April 9 (AP)—Attorney General Harry S. Toy ruled today that retailers leasing departments in more than one store are subject to the state chain store tax even though the stores are independently owned.

The opinion was asked by the Wohl Shoe company.

American motion pictures hold a dominant position in Argentina with German films ranking second, French third and Spanish fourth.

What do you mean, three years from seed bed to cigarettes...

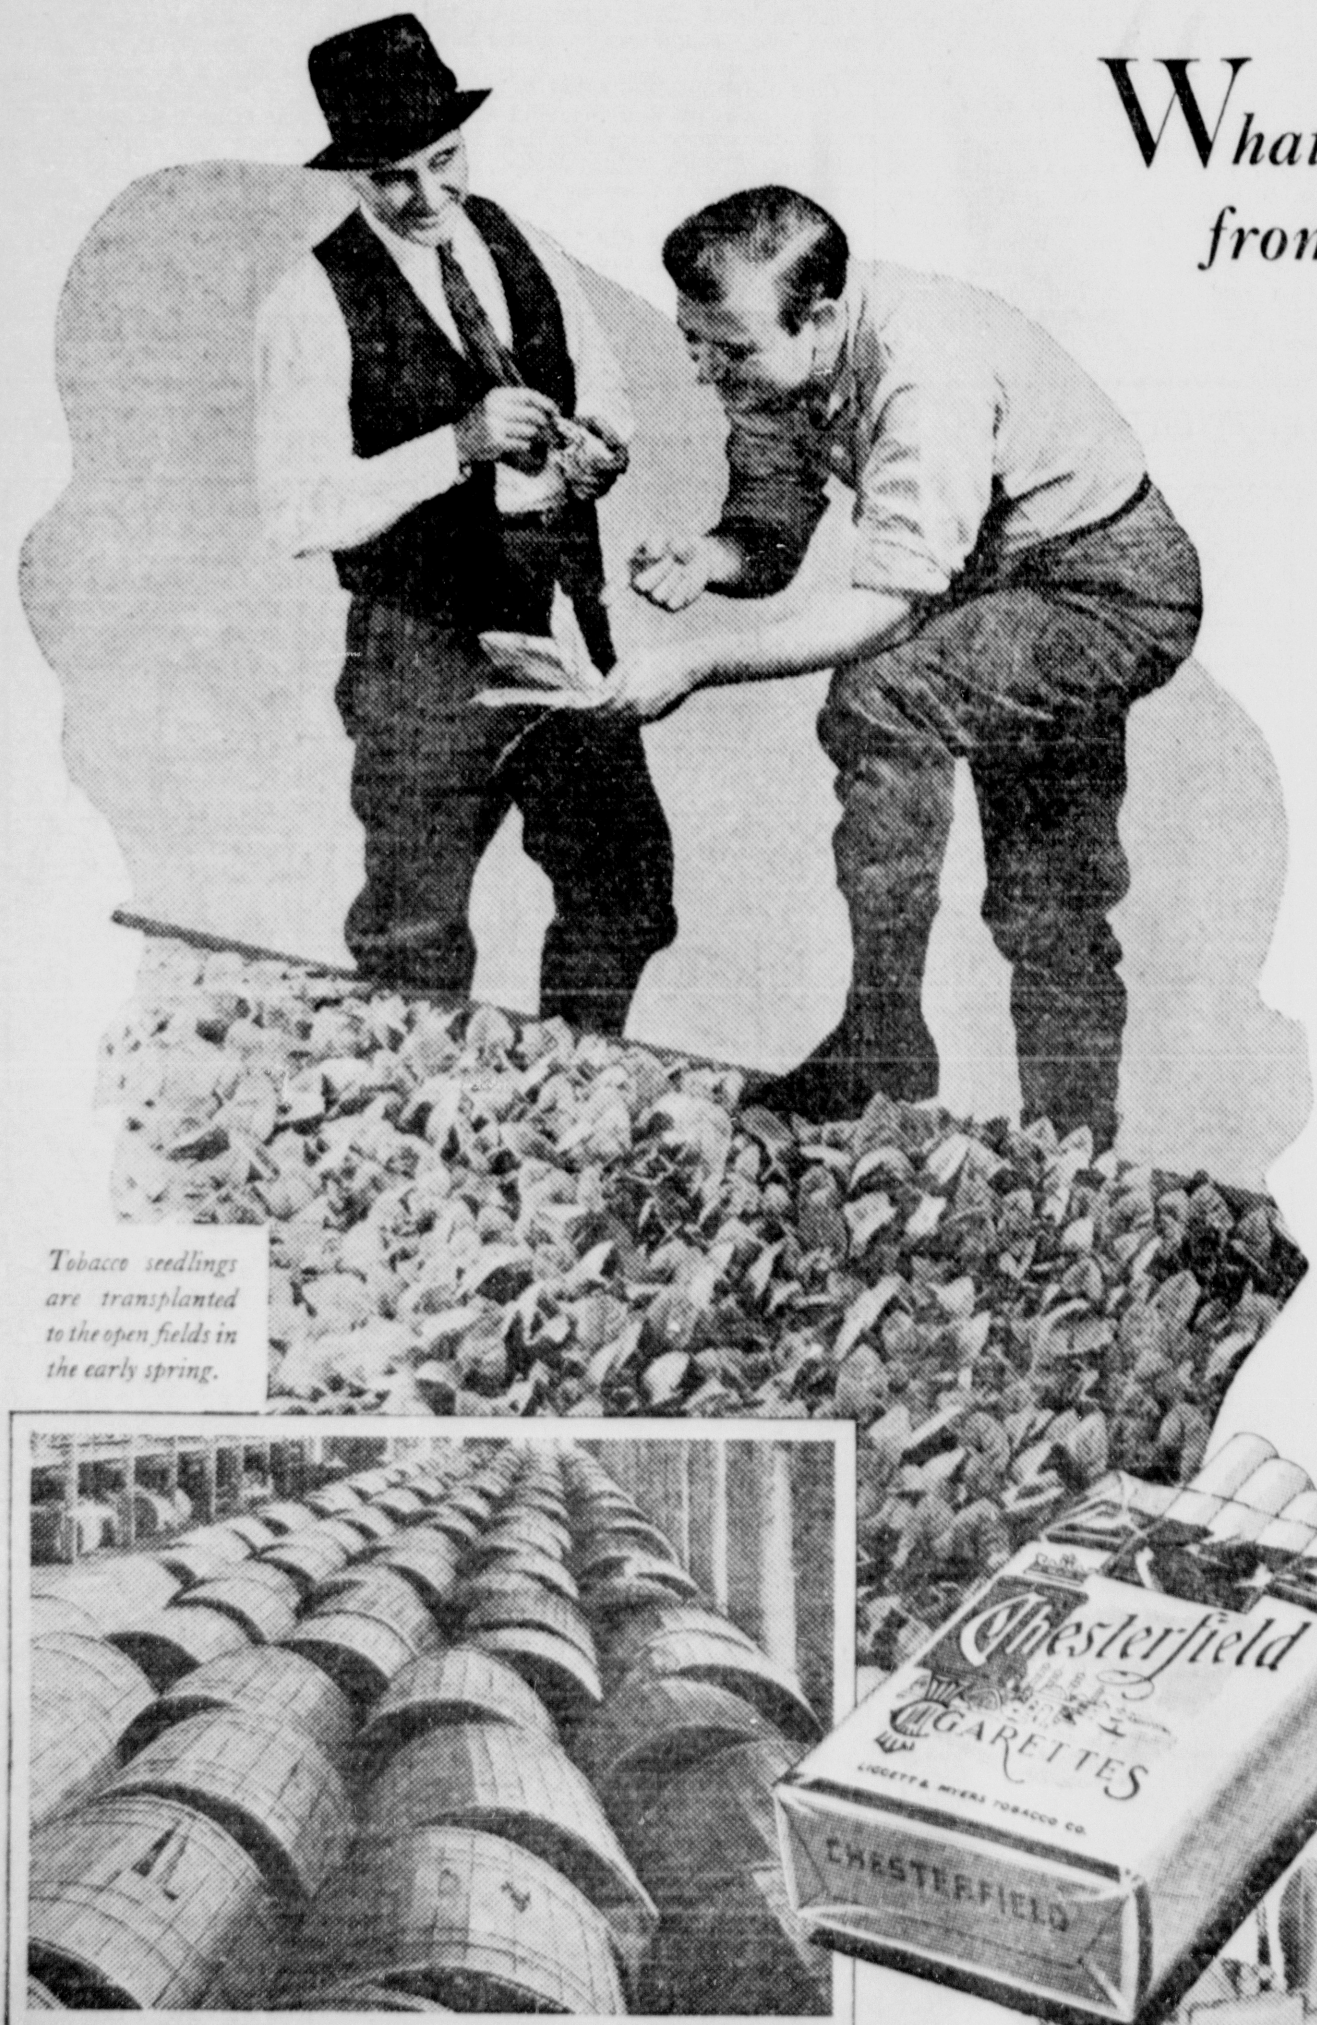

I mean simply this—it actually takes about three years to make a Chesterfield cigarette.

It all starts with these little plants, called tobacco seedlings. They are grown under cover and transplanted to the open fields in the early spring.

Then the warm Southern sunshine begins to get in its good work and as the plants grow and ripen the mild ripe leaves are cut and sent to the curing barns. The farmer then takes his tobacco to the auction warehouse where it is sold to the highest bidder. All of this takes about a year.

The tobaccos for Chesterfield cigarettes are then stored away for two years or more to make them milder and taste better.

It all takes time—just about three years—but there is no substitute for mild ripe tobacco in making a good cigarette. That's the reason smokers—men and women—say that Chesterfields are milder and that Chesterfields taste better.

Tobacco seedlings are transplanted to the open fields in the early spring.

For two years or more the mild ripe Chesterfield tobaccos are stored in wooden hogsheads to age.

Machines like this—new and modern in every respect—make Chesterfields.
